

Enforsys Systems Enters Alliance, Secures Funding

Enforsys Systems Inc., a leader in public safety software development, specializing in integrated Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD), Record Management Systems (RMS) and mobile reporting for law enforcement agencies, has entered into a strategic alliance with an affiliate of Milstein Brothers Capital Partners, the investment arm of Howard and Edward Milstein.

In connection with this alliance, Milstein Brothers Capital Partners has made a significant investment in Enforsys Systems and has become a major shareholder. The alliance with Milstein Brothers enables Enforsys Systems to offer its solutions to all federal, state, county, municipal and university law enforcement agencies throughout the United States.

"Enforsys Systems has proven exceptionally successful on the East Coast, and we anticipate continued success as we roll out installations nationwide," said Vincent Tortoriello, president of Enforsys Systems. "Our alliance with Milstein Brothers will enable the company to expand our customer base across all levels of government including state, federal and local agencies."

"Enforsys Systems has real solutions for real communications issues that hinder law enforcement officers on a daily basis," said Howard Milstein. "Enforsys has the tools to improve officer safety and enhance public security across America. We are proud to be working side-by-side to bring these proven tools to law enforcement agencies in all areas of the nation."

Enforsys Systems' PoliSys integrated mobile dispatch and records management system captures and delivers critical intelligence to law enforcement officers in an affordable, easy-to-use system. Enforsys has been retained to implement one of the most comprehensive integrated information-sharing systems in use in law enforcement today – the Electronic Bullet Proof Shield. This project, awarded to Enforsys in Morris County, N.J., will connect more than 40 agencies, permitting each agency to share incident and intelligence information. This is one of the largest projects, if not the largest project, of its kind in the United States .
